AM's Emergency Management Program serves as a collaborative and scalable arm for state and local governments to plan, prepare, respond, and recover from situations exceeding capabilities.

After-Action Review (AAR) Development

SERVING THE EMERGENCY
MANAGEMENT COMMUNITY

An after action review (AAR) is a mechanism of quality improvement following a disaster response. Using a pre-defined methodology for analyzing what happened, why it happened, and where improvements are needed, an after action report is created with clear, achievable action items to support and track improvement measures on a defined time scale.

AM, LLC understands and respects the important role communication has in the AAR process and in disaster response efforts. Understanding the path to improving communication is a key component in many AARs and AM's team of Emergency Managers, Planners and Public Health Professionals work to assess the operational and communication barriers impacting response efforts and make viable recommendations for change while formatting best practices and successes to support future planning efforts.

Specific to pandemics, AM, LLC continues to support government agencies and school districts in several key facets of COVID-19 response and case management. With this experience, AM's Center for Excellence has had the opportunity to learn from the many jurisdictions we serve and share best-practices with other regions to enhance national capacity in managing the COVID-19 pandemic.

AM's subject matter experts are trained in NIMS, ICS and HSEEP standards with comprehensive experiences in FEMA PA/IA funding, CDBG-DR project management, mitigation planning, tabletop exercises and evaluation, multi-level planning coordination, and pandemic response at the national, state and local levels. Our team understands the importance of building friendly rapport with all stakeholders as means to achieving exemplary planning products and take pride in quickly becoming welcomed leaders and collaborators in the jurisdictions we serve.
